Schools Track Meet.

The annual schools track meet of the town schools from Crossfield to Innisfail will be held at Innisfail Friday, October 2nd, particulars of which were arranged at a meeting of the principals of the various schools held last week at Didsbury. It was decided to affiliate with the Alberta Amateur Athletic Association.

Delegates present were: Messrs. E. W. Willis and Warren, Innisfail; Mr. Cole, Bowden; Mr. Davidson, Olds; Mr. Korok, Carleton Place; Mr. Collier, Crossfield; and Messrs. Ford, Reiber and Russell, of Didsbury. E. W. Willis was elected president and C. R. Ford, secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year.

As in the past, individual medals will be given to class winners and a cup to the school winning the most points in the 44 events to be run off. Olds has held this cup for the past two years.

A large number of local school athletes will take part in the meet and are now busy training under Messrs. Ford and Russell. Mr. Ford says that if the boys and girls get right down to business, the local school should make a good showing at the meet.

Wheat Crop Below Average.

The Manitoba Free Press estimate of the prairie wheat crop is 254,000,000 bushels. This is much below the yield last year and the five-year average, but under the circumstances it is fairly satisfactory. Drought in the southern sections of Manitoba and Saskatchewan and a generally reduced acreage, owing to the low prices prevailing in the seeding season, were the leading factors in this year's marked decline in production.

Of the three prairie provinces, Alberta emerges with the smallest decrease as compared with last year's figures. The present crop is estimated to produce 108,000,000 bushels, to 133,000,000 bushels last year. As against the smaller quantity, there is a general advance in quality and provided there is favorable weather for harvesting, the Alberta wheat growers may congratulate themselves on a good showing in a dry year.

The biggest relative falling off in production has occurred in Saskatchewan. The Free Press estimates the crop there at 118,000,000 bushels as against 196,000,000 bushels last year and an average for the past five years of 257,000,000. The present Manitoba crop is estimated at 27,522,000 bushels as against 45,000,000 last year.

On the whole, the major production in the three provinces this year is in the northern districts. Southern Alberta alone produced wheat in any quantity.

LOCAL & GENERAL.

Mrs. Nixon, of Edmonton is visiting with Dr. and Mrs. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weber, of Kitchener, Ont. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Steckley.

Melvin Hugert returned to his duties at the Royal Bank after a two weeks vacation.

J. Kirby was the winner of the third flight in the golf tournament over W. G. Liesemer.

Three cars of stock were shipped out Tuesday. The shipping day for stock has been changed to Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Evans left Wednesday for Calgary where the doctor will attend the medical convention which is being held there this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Waters, spent the week-end visiting their son at Calgary. They were accompanied by Mr. W. R. Hartley.

Bill Clarke and Clay Robbins have returned from Jasper Park where they have been acting as guides this summer.

Mrs. J. A. McGhee left Monday for Edmonton where she will join Mr. McGhee. On Friday they leave for the coast for a two weeks visit.

Mr. H. K. Strickland who was relieving at the C.P.R. depot last week, left for his home at Cochrane. Mr. Peter Miquelon, of Olds is now in charge of the depot.

Misses Ruth and Joyce Moyle left for Edmonton this week. Miss Joyce will take up her studies at the University and Miss Ruth will take a position on the educational staff.

"City Streets" at the Opera House Monday and Thursday next week. Thrilling with thrills. See the inside of things you've been reading about in the papers.

Tommy Johnson and Geo. Julien, went west Tuesday morning for their last fishing trip of the season and managed to land a few trout. On the way home they hunted for duck, but they didn't even catch sight of one.

An unusual accident occurred at the C. Brado farm, east of town on Monday. When mowing in the grainfield with two mowers, both teams bolted. The mowers were badly wrecked and one of the horses was so badly cut that it had to be shot, but neither Mr. Brado or his man were hurt.

According to the Carstairs News, a board of trade has been organized in that town. Some months ago a meeting was held to organize a board of trade for Didsbury. The meeting went so far as to appoint a committee to make arrangements to organize. Since then nothing has been heard of it. Why?

Reception for New Minister.

A reception was given to Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Mitchell who have recently taken charge of the church, at Knox United Church on Friday evening last when there was a large attendance.

Mr. H. W. Chambers spoke words of greeting and welcomed both Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell to their new charge and also welcomed to Didsbury, Rev. H. J. Wood who has recently taken charge of the Evangelical Church.

A program of community singing, a piano duet by Mrs. Boorman and Miss Dorothy Ranton and a song by Mr. J. Robertson were followed by a supper served in the basement of the church by the Ladies Aid.

I.O.D.E. Arranging For Annual Dance

A special meeting of Mons Chapter I.O.D.E., Didsbury was held at the home of Mrs. J. S. McCloy to consider plans for their annual masquerade ball which will be held Friday, October 9th.

It was decided to reduce the admission per person from 75 cents to 50 cents. Committees were appointed to attend to music and advertising. This ball is always an outstanding event in Didsbury social life and promises to be more of a success than ever with novelties and the drawing for the hope chest as added attractions.

Following the meeting a delicious lunch was served, the hostess being assisted by Misses Ruth Liesemer, E. W. Terry and Mrs. J. H. Lowrie.

Four hundred girls waited in the lane behind the new S. S. Kresge store in Calgary, at noon, Monday, in the hope of securing employment when the Kresge store opens in that city in three weeks' time.

In answer to an advertisement in the Herald, between five and six hundred girls and women applied at the store Monday morning, and crowded the entrances and the street so that business men and tenants were unable to get in to their upstairs offices. Corridors within the building were jammed with milling femininity, while even the rear entrances were crowded with hundreds of girls seeking positions.

Threshing Commences.

W. Coates' threshing outfit is the first crew we have heard of to commence threshing this season. They commenced work on Monday. The damp weather is holding back the harvest somewhat but with a few fine days the hum of the threshing machines will be heard throughout the district.

Mr. Aho Snyder has already threshed considerable of his grain with the combine and although his fields were visited three times by mail he reports that some of his wheat fields are yielding 20 and 30 bushels to the acre.

Presbytery Meets.

The Presbytery of Red Deer met at Crossfield Thursday last when representatives of the United Church from Red Deer, Red Deer East, Innisfail, Bowden, Olds, Didsbury and Crossfield were present. Rev. A. J. Mitchell and Mr. H. W. Chambers attended from Didsbury.

Arrangements were made for a missionary rally at Didsbury Friday October 2nd and also for the Presbytery Sunday School Convention later in the month. Rev. F. Miller, Bowden and Rev. H. Young, Crossfield were elected chairman and secretary of the presbytery for the ensuing year. Rev. A. J. Mitchell was chosen as convener of missionary and maintenance committees.

The Ladies Aid of Crossfield entertained the visitors at a splendid banquet which was greatly enjoyed.

Relief Expenditures

It is now an assured fact that a very large sum of money will be expended by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities throughout Canada in the provision of relief to people in need of such assistance during the next eight, ten or twelve months. Premier Bennett told Parliament that the situation in the Western Provinces, because of drought and consequent crop failures, constituted a national emergency, while the unemployment situation, aggravated by the loss of purchasing power in the west, was more acute than ever.

As a result of this condition Mr. Bennett informed Parliament that a huge sum of money would be necessary in order to provide the relief required. How large a sum he did not attempt to estimate, but took the unusual step of asking for a "blank cheque". In other words, any amount considered necessary with no limit whatever imposed. Parliament authorized the issue of such a cheque.

Unquestionably this does not mean large expenditures for relief. They must be provided. No Canadian is prepared to see a fellow citizen suffer for lack of food, clothing, shelter or fuel, not to mention the possibility of dying from starvation or freezing to death. But while there are thousands of such wholly deservant cases, there are many people who can get along without relief assistance who will look upon the expenditure of large amounts of public money as just so much "easy" money and will be out to get their share of it.

Right at the outset it would be well if each and every Canadian taxpayer would get the fact firmly established in his mind that this is not "easy" money; that it is in reality the hardest kind of money—borrowed money on which he will have to pay interest probably to the end of his days. It is his money and it is in his own interest, therefore, to see that not one dollar is wasted or unnecessarily expended.

It perhaps cannot be too often stressed that there is no magic source of money supply for governments, and, further, that governments are but committees of management administering what belongs to the people. Every dollar of this relief money must be borrowed; upon every dollar borrowed interest must be paid every year, every dollar of interest must be provided by the imposition of taxation upon the people; every dollar of taxation imposed constitutes a drag, a handicap, upon a rapid and complete return to better times, an overhead expense to be carried and paid for throughout the coming years by every business man, every farmer, every workman.

Therefore, every person unnecessarily demanding and unjustly receiving relief he can get along without, is prolonging the period during which the extension of relief to some will be necessary. Such persons may even be accentuating conditions which, in the long run, may force him into the position where he himself cannot exist without relief.

It is in the interests of one and all that relief expenditures be kept within bounds held down to the actual needs of the situation, rigidly restricted to those who cannot possibly exist without some help.

Communities, as well as individuals, should not be out to get as large an amount as they possibly can, but rather should be seeking out ways and means whereby they can get along with as little as possible in the way of relief expenditures. There are hundreds, yes, thousands of people, who by a little thought and self-sacrifice could help other people in this time of stress and emergency and thus appreciably reduce the number requiring public assistance. Many people who can afford to do so, and even some who can ill afford to do so, have in a sense "adopted" some out-of-work individual or family in need and, in many little ways, are making it possible for them to maintain themselves, with added confidence and self-reliance, thus reducing the demand upon public funds and checking the spread of "the spirit of the day."

It is to be hoped for the sake of Canada of today and of the future that individuals, communities and municipalities alike will, for the most part, not be found boasting of how much they got in the way of relief, but rather will be pointing with pride to the fact that they were able to get along with so much less than others.

Gandhi As Social Reformer

Makes Plea On Behalf Of Millions Of Untouchables

Mohatma Gandhi, dedicating a new Hindu temple, described himself as neither saint nor politician but as social reformer.

"I take a thousand times greater interest in my work as a reformer than in politics," he said. "If I dabble in politics it is only to stimulate the way of my social activities."

He pleaded that all Hindu temples should be thrown open to the country's 70,000,000 "untouchables," declaring that the sins committed against these social outcasts by high caste Hindus had been responsible for India's failure to achieve self-government.

The Mother of Seven Children Used It For Diarrhoea

Mrs. Ray Drinkwater, R.R. No. 2, Hagersville, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die. My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again. My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them Dr. Fowler's with the same results."

Brief Winter Cruises

Canada Steamship "Mauretania" To Visit Mediterranean Ports

The largest passenger ship charter ever made by a shipowner agency, which will send the giant trans-Atlantic Canada liner "Mauretania" on five important cruises to the Mediterranean next winter, was announced by Ralph Delavie, president of the National Tourist, this enterprise, which surprises the steamship world by the daring and novelty of its programme, will involve financial transactions of a little less than $2,000,000.

The five cruises to the Mediterranean will be made in the extraordinarily short time of seventeen days. Previously for cruises of moderate length, the West Indies had been generally considered the only possible objective. Questioned on this point, Mr. Delavie said yesterday:

"The 'Mauretania' is one of only three ships that can make this cruise. Because of her tremendous speed she will be able to cross the Atlantic and divide five full days among the extraordinary fascinating ports of the Mediterranean."

"These cruises are arranged for business men and women, including week-ends, the seventeen days occupied on any one of the trips is just about equivalent to the usual two weeks' vacation. There is no time wasted. The passengers will get to the sapphire blue waters of the great inland sea in a hurry, but they will have plenty of time to enjoy new climates and scenes before this great ship brings them back again to this side. They will cover three continents and four countries."

Minimum rates for the five Mediterranean cruises to be made by the big Canada liner will be $245.00 for the round trip. All passengers will be First Class and have the full run of the ship. The regular trans-Atlantic service, including a carte menu in the dining room without extra charge, will be used on these cruises. A series of shore excursions will also be included in the stated price of the cruises.

Ports which the "Mauretania" will visit on her Mediterranean cruises will be Cadiz in Spain, Gibraltar, Algiers in North Africa and Villefranche on the French Riviera. A day will be spent at each port with the exception of Villefranche, where the "Mauretania" will anchor for two days to allow her passengers to visit the most fashionable of the famous Riviera resorts, including Monte Carlo, Nice and Cannes. The cruises will leave New York December 17th (Christmas and New Year's Cruise), January 8th, January 27th, February 15th, and March 6th.

Testing New Type Glider

Fitted with windmill vanes, made familiar by autogyros, a glider is being tested in Germany, with first reports indicating that the idea is successful. On a vertical post before the pilot's cockpit the vanes, like a large four-bladed propeller, all horizontal, are mounted. The craft's wings are slightly smaller than those of the ordinary motorless plane. The vanes are said to enable the glider to stay aloft in lighter winds than craft of this style.

Sells Cattle In England

Saskatchewan Farmer Makes Good Profit On Sale Of 55 Head

William "Bill" Porter, farmer of Wakarusa, Sask., arrived recently at Ottawa from England, where he sold 55 head of cattle raised and fattened upon his own farm.

Mr. Porter brought along $1,300 in hard cash, being the difference between the British price for beef and the price at Winnipeg. By exporting to the Old Country he made just that much more money than he would have done if he had stayed at home and sold through the Winnipeg stockyards.

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, referring to the Porter shipment, said that these cattle had arrived in England at a time when the market was flooded with Irish cattle. Otherwise Mr. Porter would have netted $2,000 instead of $1,300 above Winnipeg prices.

These cattle averaged 1,670 lbs., fifteen of the lightest animals brought a peak price of 226 3/4c. per head. The Minister remarked that Porter was one of the best finished shipments to leave this country. The gain of $1,300, he said, was calculated after all expenses of the trip to England had been deducted.

"There is no market in the Old Country," said Mr. Weir, "for our really poor cattle. If cattle are below the two top grades the British people prefer to buy Argentine beef."

Famed Indian Scientist

Einstein Of The East Lives In Poverty Among His Own People

Sir Chandrasekhara Raman, "Einstein of the East" whom the west sought out as the recipient of the Nobel prize in physics, has been deluged with invitations from all over the world to lecture, and recently another came from California. But the Indian scientist is too poor to travel.

He has no laboratory and only the most limited library. The man who has been honoured by a dozen foreign countries with medals and degrees lives in relative obscurity and comparative poverty among his own people.

His home is a small dark flat in the poorest quarter of Calcutta. The room in which he made his discoveries concerning the nature of light has a stone floor, a leaky ceiling and bare walls, but visitors forget the shabby surroundings in his vivid personality.

Sir Chandrasekhara is only 43, tall and broad-shouldered, with a slight stoop. He dresses in the European style, with a white turban, his only concession to the native custom.

"I have little or no means of continuing my own studies," he said, "and unhappily there is little relaxation in my country of the importance of research, although it is remarkable that the greatest contributions to science in India have been made by Indians who had no foreign training."

Like Einstein, to whom he often is compared, this Indian physicist is a master of the violin, on the technique of which he has written several books.

Diagraph Aids Firemen

Records of every telephone fire alarm made in Portland, Ore., are being kept on a diagraph attached to the switchboard, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. When an excited householder screams into the telephone, "Our house is afire!" and in his haste mumbles the address so unintelligibly the fireman cannot answer the call, the disk may be "played back" slowly so that the words can be distinguished.

Pasture Lands Survey To Be Conducted By Professor Of Saskatchewan University

Complete survey of all pasture lands in Canada is to be conducted by Prof. L. E. Kirk, of the University of Saskatchewan, announcement of whose appointment as Dominion Agrostologist was made in the House of Commons by Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture.

Reduction in carrying power of ranges has been giving concern to the Government, Mr. Weir said. In order to stimulate the cattle industry a series of experiments are to be conducted as to the best grasses for the purpose. Prof. Kirk is expected to come to Ottawa within the next few months and will supervise the whole program. The time of his assuming the position was stated to depend upon the finding of a successor to his present post in the university.

"In some stations," Mr. Weir said, "it will take four acres now to carry as many head of cattle as one acre would have done some years ago. The western farmers, due to the price of wheat and other grains during the past few years, have not been attempting to keep a great deal of livestock, even in districts where they might do so, or to pay attention to forage crops."

"The farmer in the west has been paying attention particularly to the raising of wheat—and I say this without criticizing them, because they turned their attention to that method of farming which they believed would give them the greatest crop—but the result has been, by taking all the fibre and strength out of the land, to create nearly as possible the ideal condition of the desert."

"One thing we must concentrate on in the west, therefore, is to get the best authorities we can to work on the question of pasturing. There was no doubt that the best man was Professor Kirk of the University of Saskatchewan, at Saskatoon. He is one of the three best men in that work on the American continent, and I think he is easily recognized as the best man in the Dominion of Canada."

The newly appointed Dominion Agrostologist, Dr. L. E. Kirk was raised on a farm near Hazenwood, about 120 miles south-west of Regina. He is professor of field husbandry in the University of Saskatchewan and in his new position will have charge of development of grasses suitable for use in Canada.

Dr. Kirk is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan. He obtained the arts degree in 1915; the agricultural degree in 1916; and later his master's degree in science. In 1927 he received his doctor's degree in plant breeding, from the University of Minnesota. Since his graduation, Dr. Kirk has been engaged as student-assistant and as professor in production of new varieties of clovers and grasses.

One man, by merely pressing push buttons, stokes all the coal-burning boilers in a 47-story New York hotel. The boilers burn pulverized coal and when a button is pushed exactly the right amount of coal to keep the fire at proper heat is automatically released from the bunkers to the fire box.

Agriculture In Japan

Amazing Increase In Production Due To Artificial Fertilizers

Japan, a country which is even more densely populated than is China, and whose agricultural territory is limited by four-fifths of the country being mountains, is exporting rice to China. Until the year 1929, Japan was not growing enough rice for her own people and was forced to import large quantities from China and elsewhere. In 1929, owing largely to scientific methods of cultivation and the liberal use of fertilizers, Japan, for the first time in recent years, produced a surplus and is still looking for markets abroad for her agricultural produce. The direct cause of this phenomenal increase in production is undoubtedly the policy of the Government in encouraging intensive cultivation by the use of large quantities of artificial fertilizers. The annual consumption of sulphate of ammonia alone in Japan is over 500,000 tons and of super-phosphates over 300,000 tons, in addition to which large quantities of guano, nitrate of soda, potash and bone meal are used. The annual expenditure in Japan for fertilizers is over 300,000,000 yen—Weekly Press, Hong Kong.

Making Work Count

"Record Of Performance" For Poultry, Great Help To Farmers

If the farmer is sufficiently interested in breeding poultry to be doing any tramping on his plant, he can make his work count by being entered in "Record of Performance" for poultry. This is a system of "production recording" on an official basis as the result of which certificates are issued for those birds which conform to requirements as to number and size of eggs laid, and freedom of disqualifications for the breed.

The department at Ottawa supplies the farmer with leg bands for his birds, with report forms and with the services of an inspector in selecting the entries, and checking any errors which may crop up in his work. All the farmer has to do is to keep his records, sending an official copy weekly to headquarters at Ottawa.

Every month or six weeks the breeder entered in R.O.P. receives a visit from an official inspector whose duty it is to check up on his records and work. As a regular feature of their special duties these inspectors give the breeder all the information and help possible. From one such visit the farmer gets more vital and useful information about breeding work than the price of entry could procure in other ways.

"Sun Spots" and Furs

Control Yield of Canadian Product Says Oxford Professor

Has the "sun spot" a predominating influence upon the cycles of plenty and want in the supply of Canadian fur-bearing animals? This question was debated at length at the Canadian Biological Conference held in Malabar, Quebec, following a paper by Charles Elton, a professor of Oxford, England. His paper was based largely upon voluminous records kept for over a century by the Hudson's Bay Company. The peak of abundance in furred animals was reached every ten years, he said. Some unknown force exerted its influence on animal populations to keep them in step. He was inclined to a belief in climatic control.

Dr. Huntington, of Yale, said peaks of temperature and barometric pressure generally came out of the Canadian northwest to spread over North America. The solar cycle was the foundation of a great many cycles.

Canada's Trade With Australia Will Increase Says Royal Bank

The new treaty between the Dominion of Canada and the Commonwealth of Australia has given a wide variety of Canadian producers a preferred position in the Australian market and constitutes a basis of general optimism concerning the future development of trade between these two countries, states the August letter of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Canadian automobiles, newsprint, timber and canned salmon have been given special consideration, but when Canadian exporters have had time to make their goods better known in the Australian market there should be also a substantial increase in the volume of sales of a wide variety of other products. It has been stated that the value of United States exports will suffer by about $25,000,000 but there are so many opportunities which have been opened to Canadian exporters by this new treaty that its full ultimate effect cannot be estimated closely.

Travelling In Russia

Ticket Must Be Purchased Two Weeks Before Journey

With more than 15,000 breakdowns and wrecks reported during 1930 on Russian railroads, travel in the Soviet Union is now regarded by the inhabitants as an exciting adventure. To secure a ticket, one must stand in line before the ticket window for 12 to 24 hours, and this must be done at least a fortnight before the contemplated journey. Two men sell tickets at different windows, one for even dates and the other for odd dates. Care must be taken by the prospective purchaser that he does not get into the wrong line and thus waste an entire day. Wall Street Journal.

C.P.R. ELECTRO-MOTIVE CAR

Holding out of Winnipeg Monday, August 10, is the accompaniment of contented humming instead of the usual energetic pulling. No. 48, the new Canadian Pacific Railway's electro-motive car started for its destined run on the Athol, Man., sub-division. This is the first of two gas-electric self-propelling cars to be placed on the company's western lines. The second arrives shortly for use on the Weyburn and Assiniboia sub-division in Southern Saskatchewan.

Including its smoking compartment, the car will accommodate 56 passengers; has a range of 400 miles at an average speed of 30 miles per hour, and makes 40 miles at full power. A 17-foot compartment for baggage and express and a section as engine room complete the equipment of the modern traction unit. The car will take two or three trailers.

No. 48's first train orders are being handled by C. W. Lister, engineer in the picture, by H. A. Gamble, superintendent of terminals, who with E. D. Colterell, general superintendent Manitoba district (centre), and R. M. Pyne, superintendent of motive power, saw the car off on its first journey standing in the door to the engine-room is J. D. Muir, assistant superintendent of motive power.

Proposals of the United States for a year's holiday in war debts and reparations payments have been fitted into the Young plan by the conference of financial experts of the interested nations, after three weeks' discussions in London.

The experts in the cabinet room of the foreign office in London, signed a protocol which provides the suspended payments shall be repaid in ten equal annuities spread over the period from July 2, 1935, to July 1, 1942. This means there will be a year's interim between the expiration and the beginning of repayments.

The suspended payments shall bear interest at three per cent, and shall be "absolute obligations involving no question of postponement," the protocol declares.

The report of the experts says it would have been much better procedure of repayment if the suspended payments could have been simply a postponement—putting off till 1922 the payments due in 1931, until 1933, the 1932 payments—and so on. "But," the report says, "a different method was contemplated in the Franco-American agreement of July 6, 1931, and in view of the importance of reaching an agreement without delay these governments which are not parties to the Franco-American agreement have agreed to adopt the method of repayment contemplated in the agreement."

Other principal provisions of this protocol are:

(1) That unconditional annuities due under the Young plan shall be paid into the Bank for International Settlements and upon condition that they be re-banked immediately to the German Railway Company.

(2) That payments required for service of the German external loan and for service of the international 5 1/2 per cent loan of 1930, shall continue to be effected without any change.

(3) That annuities to replace the suspended payments shall be paid in monthly instalments the 15th of each month beginning July 15, 1933. These payments shall amount each year to about $20,000,000.

(4) Belgium and Germany, it is stated, have come to their own agreement with regard to German marks left in Belgium after the German occupation.

In concluding their work, the experts encountered more difficulty with the smaller governments than with the larger powers. The Greek government, for instance, was able to accept suspension of payments by Germany, but must continue negotiations for the settlement of payments due from Bulgaria.

Another critical point was Jugoslavia's plea that suspension of payments worked a disproportionate hardship on her. This has received full consideration, the report said. It is suggested, subject to approval of the central bank, that if the Jugoslavian bank finds itself in difficulty it might depend upon appropriate action from other central banks and the Bank of International Settlements.

The committee said that although somewhat different considerations applied to certain relief, reconstruction and miscellaneous postwar debts due to the European powers, it had been decided to suspend them during the debt holiday also.

The Spirit of Canada.More Self-Price is Needed.
Part of Great Empire.

"The obligation of keeping together this empire does not rest alone with the Mother Country," declared Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C. at Vancouver recently.

"We must not think only in terms of your own city, country, province, own Dominion, but as a part of the Empire of Nations that will keep the ideals and ideas that we live for."

Nor were we to think of Canada in terms of dollars and cents alone. Mr. Maitland continued, if she was to live up to what is expected of her. Develop Canada agriculturally? commercially?—Why, certainly! but also develop Canada spiritually, he urged.

To shape the national character of Canada is part of our responsibility in this generation. One of our weaknesses, Mr. Maitland thought, is modesty of the Canadian people about their accomplishments. It would be better if we develop a little appreciation of our own people and our own things.

"Ship Them Back"

Our greatest responsibility was that of teaching eagerly and conscientiously the kind of immigrant we allow to build in with British stock—people whose ideals and ways are ours. The man who comes from a foreign land, not liking our Constitution, the foundation upon which this country rests, the things we are striving for—the sooner such a man is put on a boat and shipped back to where he came from, the better, Mr. Maitland asserted.

"Teach Them Canada"

Tell our boys and girls the story of the places by the Atlantic, the two tongues that come under the one flag in old Quebec, urged Mr. Maitland. Let them know more of old Ontario, mother of provinces, and the courageous men, some of the soil, who laid the foundations of culture and education for Canada. Then the sagebrush land, the plains developed into acres of shining wheat; the rugged men who chiselled a trail across the Rocky Mountains and down into British Columbia and the smiling shores of the Pacific. Could anything be more inspiring to the young man standing on the shores of life than to know it is his privilege to help work out the destiny of a great country like this?

Guard against children leaving, by installing in their minds a love of Canada, concluded Mr. Maitland.

"Get the spirit of Canada into their very soul, so that wherever they go will be always calling to them a voice; so that they will say: 'I want to go back to Canada because that is my home.'—Vancouver Sun.

Completing a coast-to-coast holiday trip, Viscount Duncannon, son of Canada's Governor-General, the Earl of Dufferin, and his cousin, the Hon. Arthur Ponsonby, arrived in Vancouver over Canadian Pacific Lines from the east recently. They went on to a six-day trip of British Columbia waters aboard S.S. Princess Maquina.

Ladies evidently also prefer blonde, judging by the decision of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority who elected Miss Margaret Jensen, blonde beauty of Hunter College, New York, as the sisterhood's most beautiful bathing girl at the convention recently held at the Chateau Lake Louise, in the heart of the Canadian Rockies.

Effective July 1, the Toronto Terminals division of the Canadian Pacific Railway was merged with the Bruce division of the company, the combined divisions being known as the Bruce division. E. W. Scott was appointed superintendent with headquarters at Toronto.

Visiting the Canadian Rockies for the second time in forty years, Colonel R. B. Stanley, of Alverstoke, England, said he was astounded at the progress and development attained in that comparatively short period. He was a guest at the Banff Springs Hotel, which was not less the object of his visit here but as a guest of Lord Mount Stephen.

Results are out for the three major fishing competitions held in Ontario each year at French River, Nipigon River and Devil's Gap Bungalow Camps, all three contents being sponsored and trophies awarded by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. They were: a 49 1/2 inch muskallunge taken from the French River by F. R. Spotts, of Houston, Texas, weight, 15 pounds, seven ounces, girls, 20 inches. It took nearly three-quarters of an hour to land this beauty. A six pound speckled brook trout from the Nipigon River caught by Edward Fohlmann, of East St. Louis, Ill., 22 1/2 inches long and 14 inches in girth. A black bass from the Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp,

Lake of the Woods, four pounds, 1 1/2 ounces in weight, just over 21 inches long and 12 1/2 inches in girth. It fell to the rod of J. C. Jones, of St. Louis, Mo. Each winner was awarded a framed certificate signed by the judges of the contest and were also given gold lapel buttons. Fishing was exceptionally good this year in these sections and the winners were up against the stiffest kind of competition.

U.G.C. Declare Dividend.

Mr. R. S. Law, president of the United Grain Growers Ltd. announced at the conclusion of a meeting of the board of directors of U.G.C. Ltd. held recently that a dividend of 5 per cent. has been declared on the capital stock of the Company for the financial year, July 31st, 1931. Cheques have been mailed to the 30,000 shareholders of the Company.

The accounts for the past year are still in the hands of the auditors and are not yet ready for publication but it is intimated that the balance sheet will show a strong liquid position and that the earnings for the year, after bond interest and depreciation, were sufficient to justify the payment of a dividend.

United Grain Growers now have 466 country elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta; a terminal elevator at Port Arthur with a capacity of 5,400,000 bushels and a terminal elevator at Vancouver with a capacity of 1,600,000 bushels. One of the most important developments of the past fiscal year was the re-entry of the Company into the business of exporting grain which had been temporarily discontinued.

Keen Interest In World Grain Show by Australia

Many Australian farmers are preparing to take part in the World's Grain Exhibition & Conference to be held at Regina next year. They are receiving considerable encouragement from the various agricultural organizations of the country.

The special committee of the Western Australian Royal Agricultural Society appointed to interest Australian farmers in this Canadian undertaking, has announced its intention to give a special prize at next year's Perth Royal Show for wheats that are grown for the purpose of competing at Regina in 1932.

In this way opportunity will be given to Australian farmers to test their products for quality.

The Royal Agricultural Society of New South Wales is also taking steps of a similar character.

Edmonton Flier Makes Most Northerly Flight

Flying from Coppermine on Coronation Gulf to Walker Bay on the north-west corner of Victoria Island and returning between breakfast and supper time, W. A. Spence, well-known northern pilot successfully completed the farthest-north commercial flight on September 7th according to word received at Edmonton.

This brilliant flight took Spence more than 150 miles farther north than the epic flight of Walter Giffert with Major L. T. Burwash in 1930. It covered more than 600 miles of the bleakest Arctic wastes. It was made with Inspector Bonnycastle, of the Hudson's Bay Company, who wished to visit the Walker Bay outpost and bring in furs. Without any preliminary preparations, accepting the job as merely a piece of routine work, Spence loaded his Fairchild machine with gas and hopped off at dawn on September 7th.

Crossing Coronation Gulf, the route lay across Dolphin and Union Strait, Wellston Peninsula of Victoria Island, over Prince Albert Sound and Minto Inlet into Water Bay, 300 miles north-west of Coppermine.

Donates Hospital for Shrine Work.

A large two-storey brick building centrally located in spacious and beautiful grounds and intended as a hospital for crippled children, is the gift of a Calgarian to the Al Azhar Temple Shrine. Valued at about $150,000 the building will be opened early in the new year, announced F. E. Spooner, head of the Shriners in Alberta.

"This gift came at a critical time," stated Mr. Spooner, "for we are at present conducting a campaign for this very purpose. We will equip the hospital with this campaign money and for that reason we have extended the closing date of the drive to October 25th."

In commenting on Gar Wood's tactics in the second race for the Harnsworth trophy, the Washington Star says: "Den, a thorough sportsman, may carry back to England with him the knowledge that he has demonstrated superiority over the best the world has to offer in speedboat racing, and also the sympathy of the American people for the un-sportsmanlike tactics to which he was submitted."

"When a man finds an open letter on an uninhabited island, and at first glance sees his wife's name, he would think he is superhuman if he didn't read it. Remember, too, that the letter had no beginning and no end. Until I read it I could hardly return it to the owner. After I read it, I knew, of course, who the owner was. What I ask you is—did you know it was my duty to go home when you urged me to take this trip?"

"Duty?"
 Nick shrugged in a way that stirred Nick's anger, but he said quietly: "I think duty's the right word, though I shouldn't have thought of it as a duty, had I known I was needed."

"Needed?" She raised her eyebrows. Her tone was tantalizing. "Needed in what way?"

"He's not in a way to understand."

"Nick began hotly, but she interrupted him."

"Perhaps it's not. I never had a child. My husband, you see, prefers to pick his children out of the gutter."

"Angela," warned Halliday, his voice like steel.

"Did you have that letter before you urged me to go?" Nick persisted doggedly, unmindful of Halliday's warning glance.

Angela arose, and faced him. Halliday too, arose, as if fearful of some explosion, his anxious eyes on her face.

"Angela," he said again, "be careful. This is no place for a scene. Don't lose your temper."

"Temper?" The warning came too late. "Be careful what you say, and how you catch me, you virtuous married men. Look here, Nick Hastings, you act like a prosecuting attorney but if you'd stop and ask yourself a few questions—ask why your wife kept that secret from you as if it were something shameful—you'll have other things to think of besides that ridiculous letter from Julie Nipps. You're innocent as a baby, but you won't be innocent when I through with you."

"Stop," commanded Halliday sternly. "Do you want the whole ship to hear? Stop at once, and think what your temper has cost before. Remember the Ashleys. It was because you were angry with me that you kept him out all night. Think—"

She turned on him furiously.

"Oh, I've thought, and thought, and thought, and I've seen things you never meant me to see. You'll confess now, you hypocrite. You'll tell Nick Hastings why you've been sneaking back to Bakersville every week, pretending that you went to see that little gutter-snipe. You'll tell him why you went at a time of day when he'd be busy at the bank. You'll tell him how crazy you are about his precious wife—and you'll tell who's the father of that baby that's coming in September. You—"

"Take that back!"

Nick was facing her, his eyes ablaze, one finger pointing straight at her in a way that looked, to her suddenly terrified eyes, as deadly as the barrel of an automatic. In one sickening moment she realized that her temper had run away with her again—that she had gone too far. Panic was already seizing her, as Nick repeated, with a deadly quietness that was more striking than her own anger:

"Take that back! If you weren't a woman I'd throw you to the sharks. Go below. Go now. And stay there—until I've left this boat."

For a moment Angela paused, literally frozen with surprise. Then, strangely, she who had never obeyed anything but her own will, turned and fled. One look she cast behind, only to meet Nick's furious eyes, and that terrible finger pointing its scorn. Halliday stood like statue, not seeming to move an eyelash till the sound of his wife's feet on the stairs had ceased. Then Nick said, and his voice shook: "Perhaps I owe you an apology for speaking to your wife like that; but—"

"No, my friend—she gave you the right."

Halliday's voice was queer, and cracked, and lifelines. He had to clear his throat before he asked: "Sit down, Hastings, I can't stand up. These scenes—they take something out of me that I can't get back; and this—there has never been anything like this. As to that hideous accusation of Mrs. Halliday's—"

"Don't speak of it—ever again!" Nick's voice was hoarse. He was shaking from head to foot.

"Do you think I don't trust my wife?" Do you think I'd demand loyalty by listening to an explanation? Do you think that I don't trust you,

BABY'S OWN SOAP

Halliday—that I've forgotten that you asked me no questions that dreadful time when Mrs. Halliday and I were out all night? And do you think for a minute that even should you tell me it were true, I would believe you? If you do—you don't know Gay."

His eyes met Halliday's, and the older man saw there something he had seen but once before, on the night when Gay had said, lifting her own wonderful eyes to his: "No harm will ever come to your wife through Nick, Mr. Halliday. Whatever's happened—it won't be—that."

Trust—that was it. Complete and abiding trust. To few is it given, perhaps. To James Halliday the sight of it—the knowledge that such a thing existed, had changed and beautified a world that was becoming a place of bitterness and gall. For a moment he closed his eyes, seeing Gay's face in the moonlight, as he had seen it the night before he came away—feeling again the soft touch of her hands against his lips. He arose wearily, drawing a deep breath. He seemed suddenly to have aged, and his voice shook.

"We have brought you nothing but trouble, Hastings. We bring trouble to everyone we touch."

He turned with dragging step and went below, looking down at Angela, who lay huddled in her berth. Her back was toward him, and she made no sign to show her knowledge of his presence; but Halliday knew, from her relaxed attitude, that the storm was over.

He stopped, laying a hand upon her shoulder—that steady hand which, unknown to herself, she had grown to depend on in times like this. When he spoke, his words brought to the listening woman a sense of intolerable desolation.

"Angela," he said, so gently that she knew there was no anger—only sorrow behind the words, "I have had, I think, a fair measure of patience all these years; but there's a limit, you know, to the things one can forgive, and—"

He stopped, and went on down his way. You overstepped that limit when, knowing me as you do, you accused me of any such dastardly affair. I think I fear—that we have reached the parting of the ways."

She sprang up, for once unmindful of her rumpled gown, her disheveled hair. She grasped his hand, clutching at it in fear, holding it against her breast with trembling fingers.

"No—no! You don't mean that, Jim. You can't mean that! What—what's the first time she had ever loved her friend of mine, yet it left him cold. Quietly, gently, Halliday unclasped the fingers that held his hand, and turning, went out and closed the door.

Had Their Own

"Yes," said the boastful young man, "my family can trace its ancestry back to William the Conqueror!"

"Certainly not," said the boaster, "my people had a boat of their own."

Now Interested In Disposal Of Airplanes In South America

The Prince of Wales is busy in an after-sales campaign with Latin America, and Britain is cheering him on, asking him in his determined efforts.

His latest move is to boost and help demonstrate British aeroplanes to Colonel Don Arthur Merino, assistant minister of Culture and handling the controls, Britain's crack salesman impresses prospective buyers with his personality which in turn inspires confidence in his product.

During the last week since his return from his Latin-American tour, the Prince has held numerous conferences with South American diplomats and prominent business men. Almost weekly he entertains some official stationed in London.

Never To Old To Learn

Anyone In Reasonably Sound Health Competent To Fly Airplane

Captain J. W. C. Martyn, a retired officer of the British Navy, took lessons in flying recently and his instructor told him he was proficient to attempt the test for a class "A" pilot's license. Captain Martyn, tried and passed. He is 76 years of age.

There are many British pilots between the ages of 17 and 70. One of the 17 years old pilots was a competent airman at 14, but 17 is the age limit for obtaining a certificate as far as youth is concerned. But apparently there is no limit to the age at the other end of the scale.

It would seem that any man or woman in reasonably sound health is competent to fly an airplane.

There are many people today who never dreamed they would ever drive an automobile. When cars came out they seemed different things to manage, and they were really a job for competent engineers. But cars have become so simplified that any child or old person is able to handle them.

And although there are many people, even among the young generation, who never dream that they will pilot an airplane, engineers are making these machines so simple to handle, and almost fool-proof so far as accidents from faulty handling are concerned, that the time may come when they will drive airplanes with as much nonchalance as they drive automobiles today.

One of the wonders of engineering science is the way highly complicated and powerful machines are made to be the toy of anyone who learns how to manipulate a few levers and wheels.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

THE PROMISE

I am so sure of joys Which some day must be mine, I do not doubt them any more. Than that the sun will shine.

A still voice sings within. Sings on and will not cease. And something in its measures brings A surety of peace.

The bridge of care leads on To meadows of delight; Though straight the way I journey now, My wings are preened for flight.

I know the spring returns When early winter goes, And so my soul denies defeat Through its December snows.

The last Asthma Attack may really be the last one if prompt measures are taken. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy will safeguard you. It will penetrate to the smallest bronchial passage and bring about a healthy condition. It always relieves and its continued use often has a permanent effect. Why not get this long-famous remedy to-day and command the use? Inhaled as smoke or vapour it is equally effective.

HE COULDN'T READ FOR INDIGESTION

For some years previous to 1922 I was subject to indigestion, with heart-aches and thousands of stars sparkling in my eyes, which prevented me from reading. I decided to try Kruschen. That was August, 1922, and I took a little in my first morning cup of tea ever since. I now eat anything, and am entirely free from indigestion or "heart" E. E. L.

Now let it be said quite definitely, that what Kruschen did for him, it will do for anybody who suffers from indigestion as he did. The fact is that the "little daily dose" stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion, and then ensures complete, regular, and satisfying elimination of all waste matter every day.

Soon after you start on Kruschen you will begin to feel the benefit. You will find to your satisfaction that you are able to enjoy your food without any distressing after-effects. And, as you persevere, you will see that the relief which Kruschen brings is a lasting relief.

Little Helps For This Week

Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.—Hebrews xi. 1.

Strong Son of God, immortal Love, Whom we are able to see only by Faith, and faith alone, embrace. Believing where we cannot prove.

We have but faith; we cannot know. For knowledge is of things we see. And yet we trust it comes from Thee.

A beam in darkness; light it grow.—Alfred Tennyson.

Without faith a man's future is dark and gloomy. The man of true faith never despairs. Faith is, as it were, the eye through which he sees the all-merciful Providence taking care of the least and the most insignificant of His creatures. And hence, in the midst of the severest trials, the believer in God does not lose his heart.—The Bishanabad.

Mittler's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Swims Across Niagara

Young Girl Makes Crossing Just Below Falls In Ten Minutes

Dared by the crew of the river boat, "Maid of the Mist," little 11-year-old Mary Bell of Port Dalhousie, Ont., recently swam the Niagara River just below Niagara Falls, in ten minutes, and set up a record for the crossing. The old record of 11 minutes was held by William "Red" Hill, veteran river man.

She entered the water from the United States side and swam across to the boat landing on the Canadian shore. She was accompanied by a ticket agent on the "Maid of the Mist" and a cabin boy in a small row-boat.

Never before has a woman attempted the treacherous swim. Miss Bell's father is engineer of the "Maid of the Mist."

He moved away, while Angela threw her husband a look of dread. He put a hand on her shoulder.

"Steady," he said quietly, "and how you catch me, you virtuous married men. Look here, Nick Hastings, you act like a prosecuting attorney but if you'd stop and ask yourself a few questions—ask why your wife kept that secret from you as if it were something shameful—you'll have other things to think of besides that ridiculous letter from Julie Nipps. You're innocent as a baby, but you won't be innocent when I through with you."

"Stop," commanded Halliday sternly. "Do you want the whole ship to hear? Stop at once, and think what your temper has cost before. Remember the Ashleys. It was because you were angry with me that you kept him out all night. Think—"

She turned on him furiously.

"Oh, I've thought, and thought, and thought, and I've seen things you never meant me to see. You'll confess now, you hypocrite. You'll tell Nick Hastings why you've been sneaking back to Bakersville every week, pretending that you went to see that little gutter-snipe. You'll tell him why you went at a time of day when he'd be busy at the bank. You'll tell him how crazy you are about his precious wife—and you'll tell who's the father of that baby that's coming in September. You—"

"Take that back!"

Nick was facing her, his eyes ablaze, one finger pointing straight at her in a way that looked, to her suddenly terrified eyes, as deadly as the barrel of an automatic. In one sickening moment she realized that her temper had run away with her again—that she had gone too far. Panic was already seizing her, as Nick repeated, with a deadly quietness that was more striking than her own anger:

"Take that back! If you weren't a woman I'd throw you to the sharks. Go below. Go now. And stay there—until I've left this boat."

For a moment Angela paused, literally frozen with surprise. Then, strangely, she who had never obeyed anything but her own will, turned and fled. One look she cast behind, only to meet Nick's furious eyes, and that terrible finger pointing its scorn. Halliday stood like statue, not seeming to move an eyelash till the sound of his wife's feet on the stairs had ceased. Then Nick said, and his voice shook: "Perhaps I owe you an apology for speaking to your wife like that; but—"

"No, my friend—she gave you the right."

Halliday's voice was queer, and cracked, and lifelines. He had to clear his throat before he asked: "Sit down, Hastings, I can't stand up. These scenes—they take something out of me that I can't get back; and this—there has never been anything like this. As to that hideous accusation of Mrs. Halliday's—"

"Don't speak of it—ever again!" Nick's voice was hoarse. He was shaking from head to foot.

"Do you think I don't trust my wife?" Do you think I'd demand loyalty by listening to an explanation? Do you think that I don't trust you,

Angela took the paper and smoothed it out. She was thinking: "It must have dropped out of my pocket when I was walking." She said, a trifle scornfully: "Are you in the habit of reading other people's mail?"

If she expected the truth to hurt, she was disappointed. Nick met her eyes unflinching.

Mountain View Notes

Miss Doris Brown spent the week-end in Calgary.

The monthly meeting of the W.I. will be held in Community Hall Thursday, 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Towers, Mr. and Mrs. T. Towers and daughter, Marie were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Atkinson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Guthrie and Ivor, accompanied by Miss A. Elliott and Mrs. J. Brade, of Calgary spent Labor Day in the district.

A slight frost was reported here September 14th. Many farmers to the north have acres of grain to cut, while in the southern part of the province threshing operations are nearly completed, so a recent letter states

A porcupine was observed crossing a pasture last Wednesday morning. Two dogs were barking viciously at the huge-looking monster who did not heed their barks as he appeared to know his weapons of defence would prove effective should either dog endeavor to molest him. The dogs, however, kept a respectable distance. Mr. Porcupine was heading for a haled wheat field.

Melvin Notes

Miss Mildred Brown spent the week-end with friends here.

Mr. Sydney and Miss Cora O'Brien spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Youngs.

Miss Marion Leeson, of Calgary spent the week-end at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Krebs spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. O. Klein.

Edgar was seen coming in from the west early Saturday morning. Time will probably tell where he was.

There was a good time and a large crowd at the dance in Mr. A. Krebs' new barn last Friday night, but lots of room for many more at the next dance there, Friday, September 25th.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Leeson is laid off work through a kick from a horse. We wish him a speedy recovery as this is a busy time even if the hail did so much threatening for us.

If Dorothy continues being out as late as usual she will have to adopt one of Mr. Knowitall's plans for getting in the house without being heard. Dorothea says Ethel had better ask Mr. Knowitall for a copy too, because she is not the only one who disturbs the peaceful slumber, Oh, Ethel!

Westcott Notes.

The W.I. set aside the last meeting as a social. This was spent at the home of Mrs. R. Webster and in spite of bad roads there was a good attendance. The hostess had arranged a good program of songs, recitations and contests which were much enjoyed. A flour sack contest was also held, the first prize going to Mrs. H. Levingood for a luncheon cloth and the second to Mrs. J. A. Hughes for a child's crib cover. All articles entered in this contest will be sold at the annual bazaar in October. One new member, Mrs. Wilfred Owens joined at this meeting.

The name of Admiral of the Fleet Earl Jellicoe has been added to the long list of distinguished travellers over Canadian Pacific steamship and rail lines. "Hell-fire Jack," as he is affectionately called, arrived in Montreal on August 22, on the liner "Duchess of York," to open the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

Heater Macdonald, of Montreal, was winner of the prize offered by E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, for the competition between pipers representing the 17 Scottish militia units of Canada, at the Highland Gathering recently held in the grounds of the Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, Alta.

Among recent guests at Banff were Congressman and Mrs. Frederick B. Leitch, of Washington, D.C., and Newark, N.J., on their way to the convention of the National Federation of Federal Employees at Seattle. They expressed themselves delighted with their stay at the Banff Springs Hotel, anticipating a journey from Montreal to the Pacific Coast over Canadian Pacific lines.
